PLACES OF INTEREST

The Furman campus, considered one of the most beautiful in the nation, was designed by Perry, Shaw, Hepburn & Dean of Boston, Massachusetts, the firm that restored Colonial Williamsburg. The modified Colonial style of the buildings reflects Furman's long tradition as the 64th oldest college in the nation. Yet, in keeping with the university's forward-looking academic program, the facilities are up to date. The major buildings, the

David E. Shi Center for Sustainability (■ 8)

This center, named for Furman's 10th president, supports the study and integration of sustainability-related topics on campus as well as in the greater Greenville community.

Janie Earle Furman Rose Garden (■)

The rose garden is named in honor of the late Janie Earle Furman, a graduate of Greenville Woman's College and wife of the late Alester G. Furman, Jr., a member of the university's founding family.

Lake and Bell Tower (■ 10) and Amphitheater (■ 9)

Stroll around the lake on the walking trail. Visit the Bell Tower, which houses a 60-bell carillon and is a replica of the Florentine tower on the former Furman campus in downtown Greenville. The Amphitheater nearby is a picturesque venue for performances and events.

Joseph Vaughn Plaza and place of reflection (■)

Joseph Vaughn Plaza, completed in 2021, features a statue honoring Furman's first Black undergraduate student. The plaza invites reflection and celebration of those who helped to make the university more equitable and inclusive.

James B. Duke Library (■ 25)

At the center of the campus stands the library, a 120,000-square-foot facility named for an early 20th century North Carolina industrialist and philanthropist who included Furman in The Duke Endowment, a foundation that provides substantial annual support to the university.

Thoreau Cabin (■ 11)

Built by Furman students, the structure is a replica of the cabin Thoreau inhabited while writing Walden. It is located in a grove of trees on the far side of the lake, about the same distance from the water as Thoreau's cabin sat from Walden Pond.

Charles Ezra Daniel Memorial Chapel (■ 24)

Across from the library, the chapel provides offices for the university chaplains and is home to the Hartness Organ, a magnificent 3-manual, 42-stop instrument built by the renowned C.B. Fisk Company of Gloucester, Massachusetts.

Place of Peace (■ 12)

Connect with the environment, reflect, and achieve a deep calm. The Asia Garden, water feature, and an authentic Japanese temple given to Furman by the Tsuzuki family of Nagoya, Japan, harmonize to create the Place of Peace.

The landscape architect is R.K. Webel of the noted New York firm Innocenti-Webel. Webel also redesigned the Mall and Lincoln Memorial areas in Washington, D.C. Included on the 750-acre campus are 2,000 cultivated trees of 30 varieties, plus extensive natural areas.
